ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Response to Previous Reviews

If you have applied for an MSFHR Scholar award in the past and been unsuccessful, please take this opportunity to respond to previous reviewer comments, address any issues identified, and outline solutions/corrective actions taken, even if the program of research differs from the previous submission.

If this is your first time applying to MSFHR, please enter “Not applicable”.

Please note that reviewers do not have access to reviews from past competitions.

Character Limit: 5000 characters

Most Significant Contribution(s)

Identify a maximum of five contributions that best highlight your most significant contributions to research, defining the impact and relevance of each. A contribution can be a publication, presentation, patent or intellectual property right, knowledge translation activity, policy development, contract, etc. Your complete description must include the organization; position or activity type and description; start and end dates; target audience, and the basis on which this contribution is significant.

Character Limit: 5000 characters

Knowledge Translation (KT) Activities

Describe any knowledge translation activities you intend to engage, or have already engaged in for your proposed application. Be sure to include any research users involved.

Character Limit: 2500 characters

Knowledge Translation (KT) Science

If your research project is fully focused on KT science, please provide a brief statement on how it aligns with MSFHR's definition of KT science.

Character Limit: 1250 characters

Are you applying for Mitacs Accelerate funding for trainee support? (SCH)

Yes/No

Mitacs Internship Information (SCH)

If you are submitting a Mitacs Accelerate application in the Uploads section, please answer the following questions:

1. Describe how the proposed Mitacs intern(s)'s role is appropriate for their academic degree level. How will the project benefit the intern(s)'s training and career development?
2. Please indicate if the project involving the Mitacs intern(s) will have any adverse effects on the environment.

If no Mitacs Accelerate application is to be submitted, please type 'N/A'.

Character Limit: 2500 characters.

Canadian Common CV Upload

The Canadian Common CV provides information about your academic and research training, mentorship activities, KT plans, and non-academic activities e.g. community work.

- The applicant must complete the Common CV – MSFHR Full Version <https://ccv-cvc.ca>. The current MSFHR ApplyNet system is not linked with the Common CV system. To complete your requirement, please Submit your CV, provide your consent, confirm your submission, then go to the history tab and save a .pdf copy of the Common CV – MSFHR Full Version.
- In your MSFHR ApplyNet account, go to the Uploads section of your Full Application Form and upload the .pdf copy of the Common CV – MSFHR Full Version.

Publications, Patents & Intellectual Rights Upload

For Publications, Scholars should list all published and accepted publications throughout their career under the following suggested headings in a separate documents. Categories may be added as needed. Combine the publication list into one single .pdf document, and upload to MSFHR ApplyNet. There is no page limit for your publication list.

- Publications relevant to the submitted program of research (enter PubMed ID if available)
- Published refereed articles (including e-journals)
- Accepted or in press refereed papers (attach acceptance letters)
- Submitted refereed papers
- Published books and monographs (as author or editor)
- Presentations as guest speaker (at conferences, presentations, workshops intended for non-academic audience)
- Abstracts – accepted or in-press and submitted (include name of journal, title of article, and date submitted)
- Research reports or reports produced for the government
- Articles in professional or cultural journals without review
- Research or technical reports

Directions:

- For each multi-authored publications, define your role and indicate your percent contribution to the team effort.
- Underline names of trainees whose work you have supervised.
- Provide additional CV information that could not be captured in the Common CV (e.g. activities, contributions).
- It is recommended to include the journal impact factor and number of citations for each publication.
- Maintain the author order as it exists in the original citation.

Patents and Intellectual Property Rights: This section should include details of patents and intellectual property rights for technology transfer, products, and services. Where appropriate, include information regarding the title, patents, or intellectual property rights number and date, country(ies) of issue, name of the inventors and assignee(s), as well as relevance of the stated item.

Page Format

- All print must be black, of letter quality and legible.

Program of Research Upload

Your Program of Research is limited to 10 pages. If you try to upload a document that is more than 10 pages, you will receive an error message.

Your Program of Research should include the description of a single project and a set of coordinated projects undertaking related research for the five year term. Knowledge translation activities must be embedded within the program of research.

As you prepare your program of research, please consider the following:

- Contact your host institution's research office to find out when the internal deadline is for submission of your final application. It will be earlier than the MSFHR deadline of January 31, 2019.
- Your host institution's research office is also an important resource for information on how to write a successful grant. We strongly encourage our applicants to reach out to your research office for support.
- Be aware of MSFHR's formatting guidelines. Reviewers may mark you down for failing to observe the guidelines.
- You have 10 additional pages for your Appendices, which may include references, tables, charts, figures and photographs. Appendices are uploaded as a separate document. Reviewers are not obliged to review your Appendices. If you have data that is important to your program of research, include it in your Program of Research and ensure it is clearly labeled.

Format your Program of Research to be easy to read. Use headings to show a logical progression, and break up text into paragraphs.

Possible headings you may want to consider for your Program of Research may include, but are not limited to:

- Rationale, background and statement of the problem
- Research question or hypothesis, aim and objectives
- Study
- Methodology
- Expected outcomes
- Dissemination of results and publication policy
- Duration of the project, including a timeline for each activity
- Problems anticipated
- Ethical considerations
